Kenya Revenue Authority wishes to inform prospective bidders of the following clarifications in the above subject tender:

FIRE TENDER BIDDERS QUERIES
S/No	Query	Response
1.	Kitchen suppression system and pumps at Times tower are the same?	Bidders are advised the Kitchen suppression system and pumps at Times tower are separate systems as itemized in the tender document.
2.	Is the data processor protection certificate mandatory?	Yes, due to the data protection act as the successful bidder will mainly interact with KRA employees' data during training
3.	Is the ICTA certificate mandatory?	The ICT Authority (ICTA) Certificate in Kenya is an accreditation for Information and Communication Technology professionals. It is important for ensuring that these professionals meet recognized standards for their roles in a changing industry. This is required since the fire system is integrated with some computer related systems in the Authority.
4.	Technical Specification item No. 41 on page 78 of the fire tender document as follows	Bidders are advised that they shall use their own carbon dioxide and fire blanket types of firefighting equipment during the training and live demonstrations.
5.	Is joint venture allowed and should the joint venture partner provide all the mandatory requirements?	Bidders are advised that joint venture is allowed to maximum of TWO Members. Refer to ITT 4.1, page 29 of the tender document. The joint venture partner is expected to provide all the mandatory requirement EXCEPT the following 1.
